EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The Supreme Court has called out the recurring use of the "banned" two-finger test by doctors while conducting forensic examinations on rape survivors. It ruled that the violators shall be guilty of misconduct. In 2013, SC said this so-called test violates the right of rape survivors. The verdict followed the sexual assault law amendments in 2013 that recognised other forms of penetration besides penile-vaginal as rape and made a woman's sexual experience irrelevant in determining the issue of consent. Though experts have long termed it unscientific, minor girls continue to face the two-finger test, also called a virginity test.

States have failed in disseminating and implementing what courts have repeatedly termed unlawful. Central legislation criminalising the two-finger test may bring all States in line at one go. That many doctors are ignorant of a seminal judgment and guidelines in their field is no surprise. The lower judiciary and Police seemed clueless that Section 66A, IT Act was quashed in 2015 and cases continued to be prosecuted under the provision. The 2014 guidelines advocated extensive training for medical personnel in dealing with rape survivors and a uniform method of examination through the SAFE (Sexual Assault Forensic Evidence) kit. Given the two-finger test's continuance, the Government of India and SC must study what grassroots changes the guidelines were able to achieve.

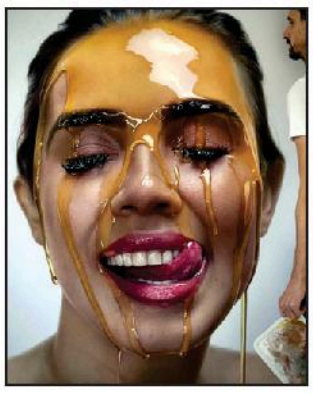
Realistic oil paintings of Fabiano Millani



Rio: Brazilian artist Fabiano Millani specialises in hyperrealistic oil paintings that look almost indistinguishable from high-definition photos.

The São Paulo-born artist, who was raised in the Rio Grande do Sul, has become famous for his oil paintings that imitate real life so well that they are often mistaken for photographs. It's actually hard to believe that he only started making art professionally at age 18, after taking an artistic course. Today he is regarded as a remarkable figure of the hyper-realist painting community.

Millani is best known for his series of feminine portraits with honey and milk dripping down their faces. These amazing pieces have earned him praise both from the general public and his fellow artists.

Man dons mascot costume to hide jackpot from family

Beijing: A lottery winner in China donned a mascot costume to claim his 30.6 million dollars lottery jackpot in order to keep his wife and children from finding out about the prize.

The Guangxi Welfare Lottery said the man, identified only by the pseudonym Li, said he has been playing the lottery for about 10 years and normally uses the numbers 02-15-19-26-27-29-02.

The man recently spent 11 dollars to buy 40 tickets bearing his lucky numbers for the same drawing and each ticket ended up winning 7,65,000 dollars, for a total of about 30.6 million dollars.

Li showed up to collect his prize wearing a bright yellow cartoon mascot costume. He said he wanted to keep his jackpot a secret from his family.

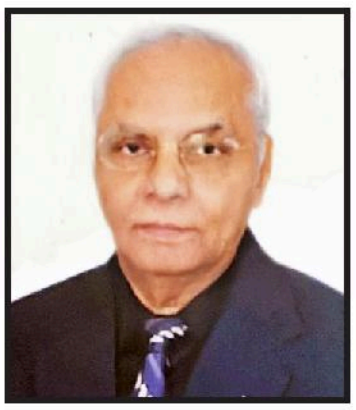
Mystery shrouds death of retd. IB Officer in Mysuru

Police say it is murder, motive not known



R.N. Kulkarni [1940-2022]

R.N. Kulkarni (82), who had served as Intelligence Bureau (IB) Officer, Government of India, for over 35 years, was on his routine evening walk in Manasagangothri campus when a car hit him and sped away

DCP (Law and Order) Pradeep Gunti seen with forensic experts at the spot in Manasagangothri this morning.

Mysuru, Nov. 5 (RK&DM)- Mystery shrouds the death of former Intelligence Bureau (IB) Officer R.N. Kulkarni, who died yesterday after a car is suspected to have knocked him down while he was on his routine evening walk in Manasagangothri campus here. In what appeared to be a hit-and-run case initially, it later turned out to be a murder of the former IB Officer as the Police began probe.

R.N. Kulkarni (82), a resident of Sharadadevinagar in Mysuru, was on an evening walk in Manasagangothri campus as usual at about 5.45 pm on Friday. He had come to the Gangothri campus in his car along with his driver.

After asking the car driver to park at a specified spot, Kulkarni went on his walk from east to west side on the narrow road that links the Computer Science Block with Post Office in the sprawling campus. This road, on which normally only a few two-wheelers travel during day, runs behind the Law Department building. As Kulkarni was walking freely, a car that came from SJCE side appeared to have knocked him down and sped away from the spot.

Sometime later, passers-by informed the waiting car driver, who rushed to the spot only to find Kulkarni lying motionless on the road. Immediately, he drove to nearby Kamakshi Hospital with Kulkarni, where the doctors declared him brought dead.

V.V. Puram Traffic Police, who visited the spot, conducted mahazar and registered a hit-and-run case. But as the Police began investigation, the case appeared to be a planned murder, according to the Police who are screening the images captured by a CCTV installed close to the spot of the incident. Police sources said that they came to this conclusion based on four factors. Firstly, the road on which Kulkarni was walking was narrow and an interior one, on which a few two-wheelers and hardly a four-wheeler travel.

Financial crunch to restore heritage buildings

Mayor to lead delegation to CM seeking budget grants

Mysuru, Nov. 5 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) will seek special and exclusive funds for the conservation of heritage buildings in city and the Mayor will lead a delegation to CM Basavaraj Bommai.

At a meeting convened to discuss the status of the heritage structures at the Old Council Hall in city yesterday, Mayor Shivakumar said, he will take a delegation of elected representatives, heritage experts, engineers and technical experts and apprise the CM of the desperate need to restore dilapidated heritage buildings, many of them that are in a precarious condition.

"The delegation will also seek special allocation of funds annually in the State budget exclusively for the repair and maintenance of heritage buildings. This will ensure that there is no shortage of funds to take up regular works to save the heritage structures," the Mayor said.

"Mysuru is a Heritage City and the many landmark structures gives the identity to the city and we cannot afford to lose them. A decision will be taken soon to approach the CM for funds. Procuring financial resources to maintain heritage structure is a big challenge and we are approaching the CM to allocate funds in the State budget," he said.

"In case there is a delay in release of funds by the Government, I will initiate measures with funds from the MCC to save three important structures which are crying for attention. They are the MCC Main Building, Silver Jubilee Clock Tower and the Town Hall. Even the Visvesvaraya Building at K.R. Circle will be taken up," he said.

Accepting the suggestion by heritage expert and Member of District Heritage Committee Prof. N.S. Rangaraju, he said that a two-day training and a sensitisation session will be conducted for engineers of the MCC on the ways and means to conserve heritage buildings and the measures to be taken not to damage the structures in the process of renovation.

Prof. Rangaraju highlighted that most of the people working in the MCC have little idea about heritage buildings, their composition and building materials like lime mortar and the ways and means to conserve them. The Mayor asked the MCC Superintending Engineer Mahesh to fix a time schedule for the training.

In his presentation, Prof. Rangaraju told the meeting that various measures have to be taken to conserve the Silver Jubilee Clock Tower located opposite the Town Hall in the heart of the city. "Also known as Dodda Gadiyara, the tower was installed by Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar in 1927 after completing 25 years of his rule. It is unfortunate that though many inspections were done and measures were suggested to restore the structure in the past, nothing has been done so far due to paucity of funds," he explained.

"The Clock Tower needs immediate attention and we had suggested chemical treatment to prevent rodents from damaging the foundation and also to prevent rusting. There is also a need to restore the top portion of the tower due to exposure to vagaries of weather. I also suggest the reconstitution of the Heritage Cell in the MCC as it has become defunct now," Prof. Rangaraju said.

Mayor Shivakumar, Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, District Heritage Committee Member Prof. N.S. Rangaraju and others at a meeting convened to discuss the status of the heritage structures at the Old Council Hall in city yesterday.

'Heritage restoration is not demolition, reconstruction'

In a pep talk to engineers, officers and elected representatives, Prof. N.S. Rangaraju of Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage (INTACH)-Mysuru and Member of District Heritage Committee said that restoration of heritage buildings does not mean demolition and reconstruction.

"Many officers and elected representatives do not have any sense of heritage and wherever they find a dilapidated building, they make plans to demolish and reconstruct that structure. This is not conservation and you will be taking heritage out of the Heritage City. Conservation takes a lot of effort and there is a need to allocate a special budget. Repairs must be carried out as per the set norms otherwise it will not be qualified to be a heritage building. For example, all these heritage buildings have been constructed with lime mortar and the same material must be used for conservation. Applying cement or M-Sand violates conservation norms and should be avoided," he explained.

"The end-to-end and comprehensive renovation taken up at Government Ayurveda College and Jaganmohan Palace are the best examples for heritage conservation. Mysuru has been declared as Ivory City like Jaipur has been called Pink City. To maintain the Ivory City character, the MCC should ensure that all government and private buildings in the core heritage zone comply with the colour regulations," Prof. Rangaraju said.

"Several digital name boards have been installed violating the heritage regulations like in MCC Office, Karnataka State Open University (KSOU), All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH), and St. Joseph's College. These boards should be vacated and a uniform and heritage-style boards must be installed," he said.

Bodies of drowned couple recovered

Mysuru, Nov. 5 (RK&DM)- The bodies of a newly-wed couple who reportedly drowned in Varuna canal on the outskirts of the city, have been recovered.

The deceased have been identified as Shivakumar (30) and Kavitha (25), residents of Shadanahalli near Mogarahalli Manti on KRS road.

Shivakumar, a carpenter by profession and Kavitha were married just four months ago. The two went together on Thursday for washing clothes at Varuna canal which flows near their village, when Kavitha slipped and fell into the canal with water in full flow. Shivakumar, who jumped into the canal for saving his wife, was unsuccessful in his attempt and both of them were washed away in the flowing waters.

Deceased Kavitha & Shivakumar

While the body of Kavitha was found near Rammanahalli yesterday afternoon, the body of Shivakumar was retrieved from the canal near Kamanakerehundi in Mysuru taluk this morning, it is learnt. Both the bodies were sent to MMC&RI mortuary for post-mortem.

Mysuru South Police have registered a case in this regard.

VOICE OF THE READER

Check erratic two-wheeler riding by youths

Sir,

While I move on the roads of Mysuru driving my car, I have noticed erratic behaviour of youths and middle aged persons riding two-wheelers.

Most of the time the two-seater motor cycle will be carrying three or more people which includes family of spouse and children.

The two-wheeler drivers don't follow the red light at signal junction, don't follow one-way restrictions and not at all follow the discipline of lane traffic. Also, the four-wheel motorists find it difficult while moving when they get green signal or taking right turn at signal points as the signal jumpers and lane changers appear suddenly.

I suggest, CCTV cameras must be installed at all signal points, at entrance and exits of one-way roads to capture traffic violators, including those who use mobile while driving.

The Traffic Police authorities should concentrate on catching the traffic violators who pose danger to other motorists than waiting to catch motorists not wearing helmets or seat belts and fulfil the target of penalty collection.

WHAT IS A HEART BLOCK ?
Heart block is when the heart beats more slowly or with an abnormal rhythm. Symptoms depend on severity. 1st-degree may not cause any symptoms; 2nd-degree sometimes causes troublesome symptoms; 3rd-degree can be a medical emergency. Symptoms include giddiness, brief episodes of loss of consciousness, fatigue, tiredness, and shortness of breath. It is primarily a disease of the elderly aged>60yrs; commonly due to degeneration of the conduction bundle, heart attack, certain drugs and toxins, post-cardiac surgery and rarely, it can be congenital/ at birth. Diagnosis can be made by analysing a simple ECG or sometimes using a loop recorder. Heart block typically only needs to be treated if it's causing symptoms. Depending on the cause of the heart block and your symptoms, you may need a small device called a pacemaker fitted into your chest. A pacemaker is a small battery-operated device inserted under the skin of your chest. It sends frequent electrical pulses to keep your heart beating regularly. Treatment for heart block usually works well. Most people live an everyday active life with a pacemaker.

Waiting for Lalitha Mahal to Collapse?

Damaged pillars, Leaky roof, Crumbling balustrades of Lalitha Mahal Palace Hotel (Pics taken one week ago).

In 2012, the 130-year-old Lansdowne building collapsed. In 2016, a part of the 136-year-old Devaraja Market collapsed. In 2022, a portion of the 95-year-old Vani Vilas Market collapsed. Two weeks ago, a part of the 106-year-old Maharani's College collapsed. Is Lalitha Mahal Palace next?

I ask because, on a recent visit to Lalitha Mahal Palace, I noticed that it was coming apart, piece by piece. I fear it will meet the same fate as the other prominent heritage structures mentioned above. The culprit is government apathy.

Our leaders and officers need to understand the value of heritage structures. Even if they do, they must have a sense of aesthetics to restore them correctly, which most don't.

Worse, their indecision about the restoration of heritage structures takes so long that when the decision is finally made, the structures are no longer worthy of being restored, instead have to be demolished and rebuilt.

That apart, our government needs to have the ability to prioritise — all old structures don't have to be classified as heritage buildings just because they are aged. Instead, it must put all its efforts into saving prominent public heritage and architectural wonders. Lalitha Mahal is one such architectural gem of our city that needs immediate attention.

Built by Krishnaraja Wadiyar in November 1921 over a period of ten years, Lalitha Mahal was initially called the 'New Guests Mansion.' It was renamed Lalitha Mahal after the model village nearby called Lalithadripura.

Lalitha Mahal was built in European style so the European guests would feel at home. That is why it is not like the Amba Vilas Palace (Mysore Palace), even though Edwin Wolleston Fritchley, who designed Lalitha Mahal Palace, had worked with Henry Irwin, the man who designed and oversaw the construction of Amba Vilas Palace.

Historian David Cannadine referred to Lalitha Mahal Palace as "an extraordinary architectural fantasy." One can only imagine how grand it must have been because today, it's in such a bad state that we can only imagine its grandeur.

Today, the grand central staircase made of Venetian marble appears dull and lacklustre. The wooden dance floor in the grand ballroom with springs underneath, with adjustable tension based on the type of dance, is defunct while the planks are coming off, one plank at a time.

The intricately designed roof is leaking, and a tarp has been nailed to the ceiling to stop water from dripping. Many period furniture, bathroom fittings, Belgian mirrors, and paintings have disappeared over the years.

The State and Central governments have never really invested in maintaining Lalitha Mahal Palace. By doing so, the second-largest Palace in our city has lost its glory and opulence. Now we may lose the structure itself.

If we want Lalitha Mahal to remain intact as the pride of Mysuru, then the government needs to give it to a private hotel chain with expertise in restoring and running heritage structures, such as Taj Hotels.

One only has to see how they have turned a once dilapidated Falaknuma Palace in Hyderabad into not just a hotel but a tourist attraction.

Reports that Lalitha Mahal Palace will be taken over by Taj Hotel has been doing rounds since 22 years! It began in 2000 when the late Union Minister Arun Jaitley, then the Disinvestment Minister, wanted to give it up. We thought Taj would get it. Nothing happened.

Fifteen years later, in 2015, the then Union Tourism Minister Mahesh Sharma said, "We believe it makes little sense to let these hotels run in perpetual losses." Again, we thought Taj would get it. Nothing happened.

Two years later, in 2017, the lease signed in 1973 with ITDC (India Tourism Development Corporation) was terminated, and Lalitha Mahal was given back to the State government. Again, we thought Taj would get it. Nothing happened. Instead, it went to Jungle Lodges and Resorts, a State government body that manages Lodges in the Jungles, as its name suggests!

Jungle Lodges does a fantastic job of running forest safaris, but they have no experience running a luxury hotel, that too a heritage palace hotel with a grand history.

But the government assured us that it was a temporary arrangement and that a more experienced private hotel company would run it soon after global tender was floated. Again, many thought Taj would get it. Nothing happened.

In 2021, it was said that while Taj is the preferred hotel group, the government would still float a global tender as per procedure. Nothing happened. Just this year, there were reports again that Taj would get it. Nothing has happened yet.

The resurrection of Lalitha Mahal Palace is vital to Mysuru. It will give a new lease of life to our city as a tourist destination. Lalitha Mahal, restored to its grand splendour, will reflect our claim of being a royal heritage city.

For now, while our government keeps waiting to float a global tender so a 'competent' hotel chain can restore Lalitha Mahal it to its glory, the grand old palace is crumbling.

As I watch old, beautiful structures destroyed by neglect around us, I am reminded of an old Kannada adage – Mangana Kaili Manikya (pearl in a monkey's hand). It means a monkey does not know the value of the precious pearl it holds in its palms. Similarly, Lalitha Mahal Palace is a pearl in the hands of a government that does not understand its value and how precious it is.

Lalitha Mahal celebrated her 100th birthday last year. She has lived for 100 years, but I fear she will not live much longer.

Mystery shrouds death of retd. IB Officer

Secondly, the car, which is suspected to have hit Kulkarni, did not stop and sped from the spot in a flash, with none of the occupant/s bothering to get down to know what had happened.

Thirdly, the car had no Registration Number plate either on its front or back and fourthly, the car's right side rear-view mirror of grey colour had come apart and fell on the road, which goes to show that the car driver was least bothered about the damages to his vehicle.

After screening the images captured in the CCTV, the Police said that the car is grey in colour and may be a Honda City or Skoda. The car is suspected to have come from SJCE side and after knocking down Kulkarni, exited the Manasagangothri campus either from Bogadi road side or Hunsur road side under the cover of fading sunlight. The Police have recovered the broken spectacles, dentures and other personal possessions of Kulkarni from the spot, which has been cordoned off.

Meanwhile, Police sources said that the miscreants are suspected to have watched the movements of Kulkarni at least for some days before going ahead with their alleged plan of killing him in an 'accident' similar to a hit-and-run case.

V.V. Puram Traffic Police, after coming to the conclusion that Kulkarni's death is an act of murder, transferred the case to the jurisdictional Jayalakshmipuram Police Station.

Police, after obtaining clues from the spot of the incident and screening the CCTV images, are on the hunt to trace the absconding car and its occupants. Police said that the motive will be unearthed once the car is traced and the culprits are nabbed.

Three teams formed

City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, DCP (L&O) Pradeep Gunti and other top Police Officers visited the spot this morning. The Police have formed three teams to crack the case.

Kulkarni, who was also a writer, leaves behind his wife Vatsala, a son, a daughter and a host of relatives and friends. Last rites will be conducted on Monday after his children arrive from abroad, according to family sources.

Profile: Born at Savanur in the then Dharwad district (now in Haveri) in 1940, Kulkarni graduated (B.Sc Honours) from Karnatak University at Dharwad. He also got a Diploma in Journalism from Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (BVB), Bombay.

Beginning his career as a teacher, Kulkarni joined the IB in 1963 and went on to become a secret service agent with the Indian Government. He retired as an Assistant Director of the agency about two decades ago. He had also worked in Indian diplomatic missions, the corporate world and even as a pilot for some time. He was a good sportsperson and represented the State in Cricket. He was leading a retired life at Sharadadevinagar in city.

It may be mentioned here that Kulkarni's third book 'Facets of Terrorism in India' was released by the then Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Mar.6, 2019 at a private hotel in city. His other works include '... and yet God Smiles' and 'Sin of National Conscience'.

Kerala man posing as industrialist cheats divorced women

He has cases registered against him at Bengaluru, Kerala and Hyderabad

Mysuru, Nov. 5- A man from Kerala, who was posing as an industrialist and targeting rich divorced women on matrimonial websites, later marrying them and cheating them of cash and gold jewellery has come to light lately. Cases against him have been registered at various Police Stations in Bengaluru, Kerala and Hyderabad.

The conman has been identified as 33-year-old Suneesh Pillai. His wife, 34-year-old Preethi Singh, a resident of Mysuru, has also lodged a dowry harassment complaint against him.

A 40-year-old Software Engineer from Yelahanka in Bengaluru, who had obtained divorce from her husband 10 years ago, was living with her 12-year-old son. Suneesh, who got himself introduced as a businessman through a matrimonial website, informed her that he too was a divorcee and owns a company by name AIGS Pvt. Ltd. and imports vegetables from foreign countries.

In her complaint, the Software Engineer has stated that Suneesh met her for the first time on Jan. 20, 2022 at Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru during which he said that he was going on a business trip to Qatar and would return soon.

She has further stated that Suneesh after promising to marry her had physical relationship with her and on Mar. 3, 2022, he married her at Panchalinga Nageshwara Temple at Begur near Bengaluru. After a few days, Suneesh told her that he required financial assistance for his business and took Rs. 55 lakh from her.

Meanwhile, the Software Engineer came to know that Suneesh had married a rich divorced woman and had also taken cash and gold jewellery from her. On further enquiry, the Software Engineer came to know that Suneesh had married another woman in the presence of his parents at Guruvayur Temple in Kerala on Apr. 27, 2022. She also came to know that Suneesh had a case registered against him of kidnapping at Irinjalakuda Police Station of Thrissur district in Kerala and a case of cheating a rich divorced woman registered at Rayadurga Police Station in Telangana.

After the Software Engineer came to know about Suneesh's cheating cases, she has lodged a complaint at Yelahanka Police Station on June 4 and Suneesh's wife Preethi Singh has lodged a dowry harassment complaint on Sept. 29.

Suneesh's parents Soman Pillai and Uma have also been named as accused and one Meghana of Bengaluru has claimed that Suneesh had married her. Preethi Singh has also accused Suneesh of threatening to kill her if she lodges a Police complaint. Meanwhile, Karnataka, Kerala and Telangana Police have launched a hunt to nab Suneesh.

Festivals of India: Week-long cultural outreach programme begins in city

Puppet show by Sri Ganesha Yakshagana Gombeyata Mandali enthrals audience

Infosys Executive Vice-President and Head Shaji Mathew and Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar of erstwhile Mysore royal family seen lighting the lamp to inaugurate the 7-day Cultural Outreach Programme 'Festivals of India,' organised by Infosys Foundation, Bengaluru and Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (BVB), Bengaluru-Mysuru, at Kalamandira on Hunsur Road in city last evening. Others seen are (from right) BVB Bengaluru Chairman K.G. Raghavan; BVB Mysuru Kendra Chairman K.B. Ganapathy and BVB Mysuru Kendra Hon. Secretary P.S. Ganapathy.

Mysuru, Nov. 5 (MK&DM)- 'Festivals of India,' a seven-day cultural outreach programme organised jointly by Infosys Foundation, Bengaluru and Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (BVB), Bengaluru-Mysuru, began at Kalamandira on Hunsur Road here last evening.

Speaking after inaugurating the event, Shaji Mathew, Executive Vice-President and Head of Infosys, Mysuru, said that according to Mahatma Gandhi, the culture of a country will be in the mind and hearts of its citizens.

Maintaining that India has the richest culture, art and literature in the world, he said that perhaps there is no other country which propagates human values and culture like India.

He said that Infosys Foundation and BVB have joined hands in organising this event with an objective of promoting our art and culture and to provide a platform for upcoming artistes. He hoped that the event would be a grand success in promoting our rich culture and tradition.

Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar of erstwhile Mysore Royal family, who was the chief guest, said that he generally used to see elderly citizens taking part in large numbers in functions at Kalamandira but in this event, youths and teenagers formed most of the audience which was heartening to note.

Complimenting the BVB for hosting this cultural event, he lauded the BVB for its key role in sustaining and promoting our heritage and culture since decades.

BVB Bengaluru Chairman K.G. Raghavan said that the event is aimed at bringing together everyone through art and culture. Pointing out that the BVB is engaged in the promotion of our rich art, culture and heritage for over eight decades, Raghavan said that BVB Founder Dr. K.M. Munshi too was one of the architects of the Indian Constitution.

BVB Mysuru Kendra Chairman and Star of Mysore Founder-Editor K.B. Ganapathy (KBG), who presided, said that pursuit of art, culture and literature makes a person 'Purushottama,' a better human being.

He said that there would be no meaning for our life if we do not imbibe culture and recalled the speech of the then Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru who said that it was important to be a good citizen with humanitarian outlook and our culture had a role to play in this.

Stating that the erstwhile Mysore Maharajas promoted art and culture in a big way, KBG observed that every art form is inspired from our Vedas, Upanishads and Epics.

"Dr. K.M. Munshi established Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan in order to save and sustain our culture. The numerous books published by BVB on Indian history and culture would help our people to pursue and practice our culture of great tradition," KBG said.

BVB Mysuru Hon. Secretary P.S. Ganapathy was present on the dais.

Puppet Show

The inaugural function was followed by a puppet show by Sri Ganesha Yakshagana Gombeyata Mandali that enthralled the audience. The puppet show with the theme 'Choodamani - Lankadahana' was directed by Bhaskara Kogga Kamath.

Ahead of the inauguration, the chief guests and other dignitaries were given a Poorna Kumbha welcome accompanied by vedic hymns under the guidance of Vedic Scholar Dr. V. Bhanuprakash Sharma.

Apart from cultural performances for seven days, the event also features a book expo in which books published by BVB are for sale at a discounted price. Also, popular Kannada, Hindi and English language books, stories and novels too are available.

The week-long event concludes on Nov. 10.

Drone mapping, digital tech have transformed road works

NHAI Member R.K. Pandey outlines new technologies to ensure transparency

R. K. Pandey Member (Projects), National Highways Authority of India, New Delhi, lighting the lamp to inaugurate the National Technical Seminar on the topic 'Latest Technologies in Construction - Need of the Hour' organised by Builders Association of India (BAI), Mysore Centre, in city yesterday. Others seen are (from left) A.V. Sridhar, MBCT Managing Trustee; R. Raghunath, Chairman, BAI, Mysore Centre; V. Gurudatt, Chairman, BuildTech-22; Dayanand, BAI State Chairman; Chandrashekar Bharadwaj, Hon. Secretary, BuildTech-22 and V. Srinath, Hon. Secretary, BAI, Mysore Centre. Picture right shows a section of audience.

Mysuru, Nov. 5 (MTY&BCT)- Road development in India has made huge progress over the past few years and at present, project awards and completion have been touching new highs. The National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has been pivotal in the growth story of the sector and new technology is being adopted, said R.K. Pandey, Member (Projects), NHAI.

He was speaking at the National Seminar on 'Latest Technologies in Construction' organised by the Builders Association of India (BAI), Mysore Centre, as part of BuildTech - 2022 in aid of Mysore Builders Charitable Trust (MBCT). The event was held last evening at MBCT Auditorium at Vishveshwaranagar in city.

"Every year, we reinvent ourselves and adopt new technologies and as such, the progress in the road sector has been marked by heightened levels of activity. The Centre has successfully created an ecosystem to debottleneck the sector and many projects are being implemented," he said.

"Earlier, contract management at NHAI was overseen by engineers as it is their role to determine the quality of the construction or operation. However, in an attempt to eliminate human subjectivity, the NHAI has made the use of network survey vehicles mandatory to ensure that work is carried out in accordance with contract. Now, drone videography is being carried out at regular intervals for a variety of projects, allowing for a better understanding of a project's progress," he added.

Drone mapping is also being used to identify choke points on the existing National Highways. Many such digital measures were initially undertaken as pilot projects, for which the feedback received was favourable, Pandey explained. NHAI uses alternative construction materials and techniques and has digitised the entire project life cycle to ensure transparency and minimise disputes. "We have introduced many digital practices such as light detection and ranging technology, fully automatic data capturing gear and software where all information including correspondence between contractors and officers are readily available," Pandey said.

The digital system has yielded positive outcomes and has streamlined bill payment processes, he added. The NHAI is equipped with sensors and the road profiling can be performed according to the drawing without human intervention. It provides a clear picture of not only the construction's progress but also its quality, he opined.

Cake-mixing ceremony at Southern Star

Mysuru, Nov. 5- As the month of December nears, Hotel Southern Star team gets ready for Christmas celebrations by holding its annual cake-mixing ceremony.

This year's cake-mixing was led by Naresh Tuteja, General Manager of Hotel Southern Star, Mysuru, Shivani Tuteja and Dayanidhi Sharma, Executive Chef. Hotel's staff too joined the team, donning chef caps, aprons, gloves and enjoyed the colourful ritual of mixing dry fruits.

The history of cake-mixing ceremony dates back to 17th century AD when it marked the arrival of harvest season. During this time, a wide variety of fruits and nuts were harvested and were prepared to be a part of the traditional plum cake.
